http://www.oudeis.org/status

STATUS QUO

the oudeis news

The April 1997 First Edition

April 97

April made some step down and others climb up...

Communication in and out of the computer takes our breath away...

Late night theatre performances leave us motionless.

Oudeis creates jobs!

And keeps the air-lines busy...

Felippe Flies To Vienna

The last two weeks of April, Oudeis Vienna hosted a visitor of one of the stations of Oudeis´ travels. Felippe Rosenburg of Rio de Janeiro met with Gernot, Monika and the rest of the team to discuss and help define our next steps. Before he left, he tried to sum up his experiences and provide a glance into Oudeis´ future.

Status Quo: Felippe, what exactly made you come to Vienna in the first place?
Felippe: Oh, that´s a hard question... I don´t really know what to say. Let´s see: First of all, I wanted to get to know the Vienna Crew. I knew Gernot before but not the others.
Status Quo: Where did you meet Gernot first?
Felippe: I have known him for two years now. When I lived in Austria we did a project together, which was called the „Sonnenfeld" (sunfield) project. It was an initia